American Troops Drive Germans Across Marne

Gen. Foch has thrown American reserves into the great Second Battle of the Marne.

United States troops on Tuesday attacked a German force which crossed the Marne south of Jaulgonne (indicated by the arrow on the map), and after a short but fierce fight threw them back across the stream and destroyed the bridges.

It was the first time the Germans had attempted to force a crossing of the famous river since the start of their drive, and America is to be congratulated that it was her own soldiers who frustrated the enemy.

The Americans captured many prisoners in the battle. They are also taking part in the Marne battle at Neuilly Wood, according to the announcement of the French war office.

The entire course: Francis Henry Wessel.

500,000 NEGROES NOW FIGHT HUN OVERSEAS

Emmett J. Scott's tribute to the colored soldiers in the United States army has been placed in the Congressional Record by Representative Walter Chandler, of New York. The tribute was included in a quotation by Representative Chandler of a survey made by John E. Bruce on the subject.

The record points out that at the present time 500,000 colored troops are fighting on the side of the allies in France. Mr. Scott says: "With the allied armies in Europe there are already associated negro soldiers from the United States and an increasingly large number of them will soon be on the firing line under the Stars and Stripes. The history of the American negro is a history of courage and valor. The negro's blood has crimsoned battlefields in every war fought by the United States since the Revolution."

BUREAU GIRLS WILL RECEIVE AT LEAST $920

President Wilson Favors
Increase, as Does Also Sherley.

Estimates providing for a minimum salary of $920 a year for 4,000 women employees of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing yesterday received the approval of the President of the United States, and were submitted in person by Director Wilmett to Chairman Sherley, of the Appropriation Committee of the House. This action followed a telegram to Secretary McAdoo from Miss Agnes Nestor, of the National Women's Trade Union League, asking that he urge the Appropriation Committee to provide a substantial increase for the women of the bureau, and a hearing held on Monday granted by the Appropriations Committee to representatives of the women employees of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, the National Woman's Trade Union League, and the American Federation of Labor. Chairman Sherley stated that the Treasury Department should first submit estimates providing for the desired increase before the committee could take action.

Director Wilmett Approves.

The estimates were immediately drawn up by Director Wilmett, approved by Judge Moyle, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury in charge of the bureau, by the office of the Secretary, and in the absence of Secretary McAdoo, further approved by President Wilson.

A hearing before the Appropriations Committee was sought this morning by Miss Lulu V. Harris, president, and Miss Gertrude McNally, secretary of the Women's Union of the bureau; Miss Beatrice Allpress, Mrs. Mary Birkhead and Miss Nora James. As the committee was in session, the hearing was not granted, but Miss Jeannette Rankin appeared before the committee in behalf of the girls to urge a larger increase than that provided in the estimates submitted.

"The results so far," said Miss McNally, "while not all that could be desired, are, nevertheless, gratifying and will put new life into the girls of the bureau, 2,000 of whom have received no salary increases for fifteen years."

WILL RIGIDLY ENFORCE NEW TRAFFIC RULES

Police Notify Alleged Offenders to Appear in Court.

Rigid enforcement of the traffic regulations in the congested district lying between Pennsylvania avenue, I street, Seventh and Seventeenth streets is hereafter to be the order of the day. Traffic policemen have been given strict orders to that effect and Lieut. Headley and Sergt. Sheldy were strictly enforcing rules yesterday.

Total ignorance of the regulations in regard to the parking of cars displayed by many automobile owners was a surprise to the members of the traffic squad.

Offenders Summoned.

In instances of violations of the regulations the police put cards in the automobiles notifying alleged offenders to appear at the first precinct police station and deposit collateral for their appearance in court or to meet the officer in court.

It is stated on the cards that the regulations were enacted with a view to providing the freest possible use of streets with the greatest convenience to the greatest number and the minimum loss of life and damage to property. Maj. Pullman advises motorists to study, analyze and observe the regulations and make safety the first consideration.
